Anecdotes, Personalities and Comments, CONCERNING
STAGE FOLK and Sometimes OTHERS

BY JOSEPHINE GEO.

There is a manager in New York, whose office is not far from Thirty-eighth Street, who is known for his lack of cordiality. A glance from his cold blue eyes freezes the words upon the lips of all but the nerviest of thespians applying for an engagement. He had advertised for an office boy, and on glancing around at the group of applicants for the position, he motioned to the most likely-looking one of them—a bright little chap belonging evidently to people in the lower walks of life—to follow him into the inner office. After asking the boy several questions, to which he made satisfactory answers, though without what the austere manager thought due respect to his position.

"You should say 'Sir' when you speak to your possible employer," said the manager. "Now, young man, what's your name?"

"My name is O'Hara," said the boy, immediately forgetting to add the "Sir" demanded by the manager only a moment previously.

"Didn't I just tell you how to address your superiors?" said the manager, in his usual freezing tones. "Now, spell your name."

"O—Sir, apostrophe—Sir, capital H—Sir, a—Sir, r—Sir, O'Hara—Sir," spelled the boy, never taking his eye from that of the manager, whose sense of humor being touched, said:

"Hang your hat on the nail out there—the job is yours."

"Trouble" is a good name to bestow upon a pet animal, for those small comforts are usually troublesome ones. This name, however, is a misnomer for Esther Lyon's pretty ferret. The clever actress is the originator of the odd name. It so happened that the small canine was expressed to her by her husband, Oscar Eagle, and on receiving it she telegraphed the following: "The dog has arrived, think best to name him 'Trouble,'"—and the name still sticks to the ferret.

M. A. Bunting sends the following incident which was told him by the veteran comedian, James T. Kelly, who was a witness to the scene. About seven years ago, the comedian was playing a four months' engagement in Salt Lake City. The theatre was a tent pitched opposite the Knutsford Hotel, where business was most excellent. During the run, one week was given for the benefit of the W. C. T. U. The perennial "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is always a money maker, was the play of the week. Marks was played by Kelly, Georgia Kane played Topsy, while Kelly's little daughter played Topsy, while Kelly's little daughter played Topsy, while Kelly's little daughter played Topsy.

The song, "McGinty," was popular at the time, and thereby hangs the incident which happened on the second night when the "death scene" was presented with its group of sorrowful blacks surrounding Little Eva's bed, and prior to her singing "Papa, Set Uncle Tom Free." At this moment Harry Sedley, a waggish member of the company, whispered something in the child's ear, and instead of the touching song that she was to have sung, the little one broke the tense silence with the rollicking lines, "Down Went McGinty to the Bottom of the Sea."

The scene was entirely spoiled for that night, and partially so for the succeeding performances during the week, for at this point the people in front always seemed waiting, prepared for a good laugh instead of the usual weeping in which "Uncle Tom" audiences indulge at this point.

A young man of the "Smart-Alec" type recently walked up to Gertrude Millington on the street of a town where, in the title role, she was playing and singing "The Girl From Dixie."

"I beg pardon," said he, "but didn't I meet you a year ago in London?"

"Indeed you did not," said Miss Millington, with a freezing stare at the intruder upon her morning walk, "I've never been in London, Sir."

"Well," said the youth, smartly, "don't let that worry you any, neither have I."

This might be a companion story to a similar favorite of Nat C. Goodwin.

Earle K. Mitchell, who, at present, is playing the sheriff in William A. Brady's production of "Girls Will Be Girls," tells the following on himself, in which he inadvertently admitted what no member of the profession will confess to, for indeed, he really is a good actor.

While playing in Atlantic City with the "Way Down East" company, he was unable to find suitable accommodations at any of the hotels, so he boarded with a private family. As he had not mentioned his occupation, he was surprised at dinner one night by one of the young ladies of the family saying:

"Oh, Mr. Mitchell, are you any relation to Earle K. Mitchell, who plays H. H. H. in 'Way Down East'?" You certainly look something like him."

"No, indeed," replied Mitchell, with an assumption of dignity, "there are no actors in my family."

An amusing setback to the well remembered dramatic dignity of Lawrence Barrett was once perpetrated by a barber—a member of that profession reputed to be the most talkative of all. The tragedian was being shaved in a little shop in one of the cities in which he was playing an engagement. During the barber's monologue—for he had to talk all to himself—he informed the actor that he was a "sensitive," and by feeling the texture of a man's skin, the shape of his head, and noting various other indications, could tell the calling or occupation of the subject.

"For instance," said the barber, "the young man who just left the chair, and who was entirely unknown to me, I diagnosed as a drygoods clerk. You see, he had soft, white hands and a light tenor voice. Now you," continued the talkative one, are not so easy a subject."

"Well, what do you think I am?" said Barrett, unbending from his usual pose of quiet dignity.

"Let me see," mused the barber, observing the actor's flexible hand, "you belong to the profession requiring great surgical skill, you are a corn doctor."

Exit the quasi chiropodist in stately silence, so soon as his shave could be completed.

The caustic criticism of one of the singers at a concert, the programme of which consisted of classic gems, read as follows:

"There Stands a Lonely Palm Tree," an exquisite lyric, was rendered by the distinguished tenor, Roberto Smythe. Owing to extreme hoarseness, Mr. Smythe, instead of his usual delicately smooth rendition of the song, ripped the poor palm tree up by the roots."

The following should be a good one to print with Sam Bernard's publicity material, accompanying his triumphal tour with "The Girl From Kay's":

A porter of a New York hotel was ailing a monstrous specimen of the dog family, a finely bred St. Bernard, on one of the side streets near Broadway. The animal attracted the attention of a passer-by, who stopped the porter, saying:

"That's a beautiful beast you're in charge of."

"Yes, Sir," was the reply, "I'm proud to be airtin' him. He belongs to a guest of the house."

"What sort of breed is he?" asked the man.

"He's what they do be callin' a Sambernard, Sir," was the Irishman's reply.

The foreigner is not always able to express in English what he really means. In using synonymous words he sometimes says what he does not mean. A German music director in charge of one of the New York orchestras, was hurrying past the entrance of the Weber Music Hall the other day, when he was stopped by another musician of the same nationality.

"For vy are you in such a quick rushings, Franz?" exclaimed the second man, perhaps influenced in his dialect by his proximity to the little theatre whose very walls reek of the inimitable Weberfeldian method of twisting the English language.

"Hav'n't you der sad news noch nlich gehert? Mine double bass list tott."

"Oh, I 'spose you vas makin' quick to der funeral, nicht?"

"No, I go to rehearsal—but I'm in favor of der funeral."

Jas. A. Morrow is organizing and booking a new and up to date repertory show for 1905-6, to open in November, playing the best big city time only. The company will consist of eighteen people all told, twelve in the cast and six to do specialties. There will also be a big feature dog, pony and monkey act. A special combination baggage and stock car will be used to transport the properties of the show. Mr. Morrow has already secured some very desirable time. Scenic artists are now at work at Mr. Morrow's home, Homer, N. Y.

W. A. McConnell has been engaged by William A. Brady to direct the forthcoming tour of Grace George, in "Abigail." It will begin at Ford's Opera House, Baltimore, Feb. 13.

We are successfully producing the musical comedy, "A Bell Boy," also "A Western Rose" and "Bill, the Burglar." Have also six strong vaudeville acts. Our season opened Jan. 5, at Plainfield, N. J., and is booked solid through Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Ohio. We carry a car load of special scenery.

Jos. G. Chandler, advance agent, left the Sam Du Vries Stock Co., at Wellsville, N. Y., and returned to New York City. Albert Graybill will look after affairs ahead of the company for the rest of the season.

Notes from "Your Neighbor's Wife" Co.: Chas. Ellis and Louise Melka recently opened the new opera house at Franklin, Ill., presenting Mr. Ellis' latest comedy drama, "Your Neighbor's Wife." The house was packed with an appreciative audience, who greeted the play and players with no end of applause.

Mr. Heth is a member of the Heth & Squires Advertising Co., which controls bill posting plants in Newport, Vt.; Lyndonville, St. Johnsbury and Woodsville, N. H.

Maurice Campbell has completed arrangements, through Alice Kauser, whereby he secured the American rights of the last play written by Henrik Ibsen, entitled "When the Dead Awake." The play will be given an elaborate production at a New York theatre early in February. Heretofore all Ibsen plays have been common property both in America and England, but the last play written by this author was copyrighted internationally.

Harry Elting, in advance of North Bros. Comedians (Western), reports good business for his attraction. At Sherman, Tex., on the opening night, they broke all records in the history of the house, and at Waxahatchie the seating capacity of Shelton's Opera House was taxed to its utmost, many being turned away at each performance. The season will continue until the first of June, when the company begins its park engagements.

Burton S. Nixon and wife (Beulah Poynter) closed with the "Dora Thorne," Western Company, Jan. 1, and are winning favor in the heavy and ingenue roles, respectively, with the "Out of the Fold" Co.

Ellipse Stock Co. Notes: We are in our three hundred and sixteenth week and we are not turning them away, but getting our usual share of good business. Our trip to Brownsville, Tex., and Matamoros, Mex., was a big winner. We were the first car show to play those towns, as the new railroad has only been completed four months. C. W. Genter, after being on the sick list for a few days, is able to be among the boys again. The company remains the same, and is as follows:

Morgan will star in the play. Jacques Kruger, Blanche Chapman, F. C. Bangs and Scott Cooper have been engaged to support Mr. Morgan.

Notes from the Edward Blondell Co., in "The Lost Boy": Weber & Rush are deserving of success for the excellent production they have given their new star, Edward Blondell, the original "Katzenjammer Kid," who is appearing in his musical farce, "The Lost Boy." The dramatic writers who have witnessed the performance in Rochester, Syracuse, Philadelphia and also in New York City, are unanimous in their praise, not only of Mr. Blondell, whose fun making methods are entirely his own, but also of the strong company of actors and specialty people and the very capable and thoroughly drilled chorus.

The musical numbers are well chosen and appropriately costumed, no expense having been spared in this particular, while the scenery and electrical effects are in harmony and good taste. Several well known managers who saw the performance during the engagement at the Murray Hill Theatre, last week, said they considered Mr. Blondell and "The Lost Boy" one of the best attractions recently offered to the patrons of the popular priced theatres, where the company is to play.

World of Players.

Notes from the "Uncle Josh Perkins" Co., with Huse N. Morgan in the title role, under the management of H. H. Frazee: This company has been playing to the largest business ever played to by any "rube" show—at least that is the report of all house managers where we appear, and they certainly know. We are playing our Ohio time at present. We opened our season Aug. 3, at Waukesha, Wis., have played as far South as Galveston, Tex., and have only had two losing weeks in the entire season. We carry a fine band that certainly wakes up the natives on our arrival, and give a play that sends our patrons home more than satisfied. There are eleven copies of THE OLD RELIABLE received each week, and that, with sure salary and good management, is enough to satisfy any one. Our present roster: Frazee & Bay, proprietors; H. H. Frazee, manager; Russell Hardman, business manager; Huse N. Morgan, stage director; Robert Meredith, stage manager; J. C. Burba, carpenter; Merle Hatten, properties; Harry E. Bay, leader of band; Mike Garcia, leader of orchestra; Jap Bentfrow, Fred La Rue, Geo. Kemble, John Holguin, Earl Ferguson, Elsie Frazee, Lulla Bay, Irene Jensen, Mrs. Jap Bentfrow and Bessie F. Morgan.

Pilgrim & Elliott's production of "For Her Sake" has just returned from the coast, where it played to the largest business this play has ever done. The company remains the same as on the opening day: Jos. Pilgrim, manager; Lewis Elliott, advance representative; Chas. J. Lammers, stage manager; Clem Harris, musical director; Frank King, carpenter; Helen Gillingwater, Gertrude Ritchie, Ella Marble, Grace Campbell, Edwin Scribner, Marc B. Robbins, Billy Marble, Roy Laidlaw, Edwin Percival, John Benedict, Frank Simmons and Chas. J. Lammers.

Among recent engagements are: Lotus Merretta with Dorothy Vaughan's "Gibson Girls," for juveniles, and Lotta Penn, for soubrettes.

James R. Stockdale and wife, Geraldine Russell, recently arrived in the city, having closed with the "Why He Divorced Her" Co., with which Mr. Stockdale was directing the stage and playing the heroic lead, and Miss Russell doing the emotional ingenue lead.

Regarding the Lyric Theatre, New Orleans, Chas. E. Davis, one of the proprietors, writes: "The theatre is admittedly one of the finest in the entire South, and has been opened about two months. The present company have had a most successful engagement. They are now leaving that they may be succeeded by companies booked earlier. It will be the policy of the Lyric in the future to play combinations, as far as is practicable."

Edwin Fox has been engaged by Mittenbach & Forrester to play the title role in their "A Prisoner of War" Co.

Notes from the Gaspard Bros.: We are now in the twenty-third week of our season with our own attraction, "A Struggle for Gold," a powerful Western drama, and our business has been good, especially in Pennsylvania and New York. We carry twenty-one people, and the show is booked solid until June 15. Next season we will have two productions on the road, playing city time.

William Young, who dramatized "Ben Hur," sailed for London, Eng., Jan. 22, to spend the winter in Germany.

Viola Kibbe closed with the Albert Taylor Co. Jan. 12, owing to illness, and is in San Antonio, Tex.

Herman O. Smith writes: "Owing to the closing of the 'Over Niagara Falls' Co., B, which I was managing, I have made arrangements to act as business manager for C. S. Sullivan, with his new 'Dora Thorne' Co." Mr. Sullivan has engaged Lawrence Lee to write a new version of this popular piece. There will be an entirely new and elegant line of printing, and we will also carry a car load of scenery, opening in the near future."

Notes from the Hollingsworth-Lewis Co.: After a spell of sickness, which lasted for a week, we are now able to take to the road again. Boua Myrtle and Maud had a severe case of the grip. We opened in Thibodeaux, La., on Jan. 20, for a three night stand. Our company has been meeting with great success under the personal management of Lew Gleason. Had a great time Christmas and New Year's with a Christmas tree, and presents were exchanged between members of the company. All join in sending THE CLIPPER a happy and prosperous 1905. Our company is composed of some of the very best people in the business. Roster: Lew Gleason, manager; Maud Hollingsworth, Myrtle Hollingsworth, Alice Ardella, Magnolia J. Steers, Mrs. Lew Gleason, Baby Jane Steers, Karl B. Steers, director; Geo. Shaffer, props; Geo. Shumaker, carpenter; Andy Brewer, business manager; Jack J. Boyle and C. H. Burkhardt doing our advance work.

Notes from the Gertrude Ewing Co.: This company is now headed for its Northern time. Business with us so far this season has been up to the standard, and while we did not get it all, we certainly got our share. Throughout Texas Miss Ewing was received in each town with a hearty ovation, she having many friends and admirers in that State. In Arkansas she has made many friends. Press and public throughout the South proclaim us the strongest and best popular priced attraction that has visited them in several seasons. We had a delightful time Christmas and New Years. Numerous and costly presents were exchanged by the different members of the company, while Mrs. and Miss Ewing gave the company an elegant spread. Our company is like a happy family. Roster: Ewing & Ewing, proprietors; Lou N. Harrington, business manager; Charles A. Clarke, representative; Lee D. Ellsworth, stage director; Jack Toeller, stage carpenter; Julius Reuss, musical director; Gertrude Ewing, Gertrude Harrington, Irene Jones, Mrs. J. C. Ewing, May Hamilton, Fannie Toy, Blanche Ellsworth, Martha Toeller, Louis Dean, Judson Langill, Lee D. Ellsworth, Al. Phillips, Ben Toy, Julius Reuss, Jack Toeller, Charles A. Clarke and Lou N. Harrington. Specialties are introduced between acts by Al. Phillips, singing and dancing comedian; May Hamilton, artistic paper tearing, and the Toys, musical act.

On account of throat trouble Evelyn Wood has closed with "Queen of the Highway" Co., and Helen McDowen is now playing the title role, Belle Diamond, the Bandit Queen. Lillian Volkman has also joined for Jess, the Western Wild Flower.

WE BATTLE AGAINST THE DRUG CRAVE A LASTING CURE ENSURED HOME TREATMENT

Through the medium of public periodicals we desire to reach the thousands of those who need help, instead of the hundreds only whom we can treat in private practice.

The remedy we offer has been used with convincing success by our associate physicians in their private practice for many years. Cases in all stages have been permanently cured. By the use of this remedy a portion of the drug is expelled each day from the system, its tonic properties supplying a natural strength in place of the fictitious support formerly supplied by the drug.

One of our associate physicians will diagnose and treat each case individually. Treatment is taken in patient's own home and will not interfere with daily occupation. We accept only those patients who are truthful in their statements to us, strictly follow instructions and promptly fulfill their obligations.

If any patient finds treatment unsatisfactory at the end of two weeks we will cheerfully refund the money he or she has paid us.

World of Players.

—Mrs. H. C. De Mille has completed arrangements whereby her son, Cecil De Mille, is to produce the De Mille-Belasco play, "Lord Chumley," one of E. H. Sothern's greatest successes. It is interesting to note that the father wrote the manuscript, the mother is to produce it, and the son to play it. Mr. De Mille was a leading man for Virginia Harned at one time.

—Maurice Campbell has engaged Frederick Lewis to play Rubick, a sculptor, in his production of Henrik Ibsen's "When We Dead Awaken."

—Notes from the Flora De Voss Co., No. 2: We are now in our twenty-fourth week and business continues good, even better than we expected, as we have run up against some very cold weather and several big snow storms.

—The company took a two weeks' vacation for the holidays and everyone seems to have enjoyed it, and we are once more back at work. The roster remains the same as when we opened, with the exception of Mr. Sterling, who joined New Year's week for the principal comedy, J. R. Rotnour, manager; James McBride, advance representative; Walter Ryder, stage manager; Edwin Brink, J. C. Livingston, Loren Sterling, N. K. Russell, Clyde Veaux, Florence Mack, Mabel Henderson and Ruby Rotnour.

—Adeline Revena, of the Ina Lehr Co., writes that she has fully recovered from a severe cold, from which she has been suffering for the past two months.

—Lyman R. Abbey writes: "Way Out West" Co., which my wife, Louise Jordan Abbey, and I were with, closed Dec. 24, in Nebraska, and went to Chicago. My wife opened with "Weary Willie Walker" Jan. 19, at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and I opened Jan. 16, with "In the Far East" Co., at Clinton, Ia."

—Juliet Atkinson, who played the role of Aurea, and Harry Dornon, in the role of Kane, with Jeanne Towler, in "Iris," have joined Bessie Toone's company, now presenting the play through Texas.

—The new theatre at Concord Park, Natchez, Miss., which is being built by M. M. Irwin for the Summer stock, will be one of the largest and best Summer theatres in the South. For the past two seasons business at that resort has increased to such an extent that the old theatre was not large enough to accommodate the patronage.

—Notes from the Edsall Anthrope Stock Co.: This company is now playing at St. O. at every stand. At Statesville, N. C., and Anderson, S. C., we broke all records in the two houses for a popular priced repertory show. At Statesville, J. M. Overstreet, general agent, of the Statesville, has joined us advance and press agent for four weeks, and has given us crowded openings ever since, with double the space of press notices of the past. The roster of the company is as follows: De Loss Edsall and Pearl Winthrop, the owners; Edgar Varney, leads; E. Driscoll, heavy; Howard Nugent, Will C. Davis, Arthur Price, Ollie Slavin, Margaret Nugent and Louise Price. Specialty performers: Thomas and Powers, society sketch team; Effie P. Nor, dancer; the Connors, acrobats; and a number of other comedians, acrobats, and animated pictures of the cinegraph. Darcy Campbell is musical director.

—Bob, the Outcast, Notes: E. H. Flaig has recently joined this company for the light comedy. The cast has also been strengthened by the addition of Maud Sydney Carlisle, to do the title role of Bob, the Outcast.

—Notes from Jas. T. McAlpin's "Hans Hanson" Co.: We have not closed, as was reported, but are only laying off for three weeks, having closed on account of illness and changing our route. We will reopen for the rest of the season at Earlville, Ill., Feb. 23, and our show will be better than ever. We had been doing a fine business since our opening, on Aug. 18, 1904, until our closing Jan. 22, 1905. Our band and orchestra will be stronger than ever. The company will be scattered until our reopening, every one going home for a visit. Martin Bowers, stage manager, will spend a few days in St. Louis, thence to Chicago to visit his father, Louis Bowers, business manager, will go to his home at Sheboygan, Wis., for one week; Mr. and Mrs. McAlpin will rest in Chicago until the reopening, then "Hans Hanson" will continue its season until June 1, 1905.

—"Happy Hooligan" Notes: On account of the tremendous success which "Happy Hooligan" has won Gus Hill anticipates sending the Eastern company to Australia at the expiration of the present season. This comedy has won greater laurels this season than ever. The company will be strengthened by the addition of a number of actors who have won a signal victory. This is the company which Mr. Hill intends sending to Australia, and recently plans have been formulated in such a way as to assure the tour. The company will in all probability open in Melbourne during the winter season there, which comes at the same time as the Summer here. The date of departure will be decided upon later.

—Justice Keogh, in the Supreme Court, at White Plains, N. Y., on Jan. 21, handed down a decision in the suit of Frances W. Jackson against Kate Claxton, in which he held that Miss Claxton is the sole owner of the play, "The Two Orphans." Mrs. Jackson claimed that a renewal of the copyright of "The Two Orphans" was worth $10,000. A judgment was asked for an injunction restraining Kate Claxton from producing "The Two Orphans."

—Helen Prindiville, an actress, was married Jan. 24, to George Francis Griffin, a non-professional.

—Charles Frohman has gained possession of both the English and American rights of the comic opera, "La Petite Bohème," the music of which is by M. Henri Hirschmann and the book by M. Paul Perrier. It is Mr. Frohman's intention to produce it simultaneously in London and New York in the Autumn.

—Bedreline Comedy Notes: We opened our Western tour at Boulder, Col., Jan. 17, and are doing finely. The following new people joined us at Boulder: J. M. Mired, leader; S. O. Leep, advance; M. Y. Banns, comedian; and T. Borgeganes, property man. We have added the following plays: "A House Game," "The Law of Life" and "Remnants." We get our favorite paper, THE CLIPPER, every Saturday.

—Frederick Baker's new pastoral play, in four acts, entitled "By the Old Fireside," will be produced the coming Spring by the M. W. Taylor Amusement Association.

—H. F. Stone is engaged for next season with the "Girl of the Streets" Co.

—Sara MacDonald has been engaged as leading lady for the "Chas. Mortimer" Co.

—Maude Leone, who has been meeting with great success as Jeannette Logan, with the Western "Human Hearts" Co., has been transferred by W. E. Nankerville to the Southern company on account of the closing of the Western organization.

—Notes from La Verna Moore Stock Co., Foster Hutchins, manager: We opened at Camargo, Ill., to fair business, Jan. 23, in spite of cold weather, and the S. R. O. sign was conspicuous the last three nights of the week. Week of Feb. 6 we play Lathin, Ill. Everybody is enjoying good health, and prospects are bright.

—Susie Howard will join Washburn's "Uncle Tom" Show Feb. 10, to play Topsy.

—Florence Hadley, who was featured in "Rachel Goldstein," has gone to Norfolk, Va., for her health.

—James McDuff goes with the "No Mother to Guide Her" Co. next season.

—Harry Hastings was granted a divorce from Anna Israel on Jan. 29, by Supreme Court Justice Bischoff, of New York.

—Notes from the Chas. Mortimer Co.: The "double alliance," planned by Mr. Mortimer, was dropped after a five week trial, and after a five days lay off at Du Bois, Pa., the tour was resumed at Falls Creek, Pa., and business has been excellent since. B. Frank Mitchell has taken the managerial reins, and his long association with Mortimer qualifies him for the position. The reorganized company embraces: Sara MacDonald, Viola May, Lotta Chase, Helen Bancroft, Ralph Menzing, Jack Rose, George Dettinger, J. A. Sheehan, Frank Kendall, Harry Bralund, a fifth comedy act, with B. Frank Mitchell, manager; John Dusch, agent, and Kathryn Waring, musical directress. Our specialties are: The Great Kane, Joe Morvillo, Carlton Sisters, Viola May and George Dettinger. Our route is booked South and East.

—Helene Reicka and Harry K. Hamilton are in their twenty-fourth week with the Osman Stock Co., touring the South.

—Notes from the Berry Stock Co.: This company, which is composed of sixteen people, opened the season at Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 26. Miles Berry is proprietor and manager, and Col. W. H. Fremont, advance representative. Mr. Berry is a well known circus agent and manager, who devotes his time to the white tents in the Summer and theatrical business in the Winter. Col. Fremont is a carnival promoter. Our business has been good.

—C. E. Beyerle closed his "Elmdale Farm" and Daly's "Ten Nights" Cos. Saturday, Jan. 21, and is now in Kansas City having his cars repainted and finished up for the coming season under canvas, when he will again go out with the two old reliable Burks' "Uncle Tom" and Daly's "Ten Nights." Fred R. Pilcher will manage the "Ten Nights" Co., and C. T. Brockway has the business end of the Burks' "Uncle Tom" Co., while C. E. Beyerle acts as general manager.

—Bruce Richardson has been engaged to do the comedy in Hal Red's new play, "Nobody's Darling," under the management of Sullivan, Harris & Woods.

—Notes from Chase & Lister's "A Runaway Match" Co., with Clint and Bessie Robbins: We will take two week rest in order to give us an opportunity to place our popular priced stock company on the road. The season will commence at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Feb. 18. Only high class productions will be made of some of the greatest successes, carrying special scenery and effects. Extended engagements will be played in Sioux City, Sioux Falls, and all the larger Western and Northwestern cities. Clint and Bessie Robbins are to be featured, and among the new people re-engaged are: Hoff, Matthews and Jack Krall. Chase & Lister are making a feature of their specialties.

—Notes from Gus Hill's enterprises: Preparations are now in progress for the launching of a new and powerful melodrama, entitled "The Victim," which is founded on the cruelties and the present uprising which is now taking place. The company engaged will include some of the best known performers. The play will be mounted with new and realistic scenery, and special lithographic paper is in the hands of the artists.

—Notes from the Myers Stock Co., Sim Allen, manager: We are now in our twenty-ninth week, and business with us continues excellent. Our features, "The Victim" and "The Woman Who Did" Cos., is filling the same position with their "A Prisoner of War" Co.

—Louis Mortelle and C. F. Southworth joined "Escaped from the Harem" last week. "Escaped from the Harem" has retired from the "Escaped from the Harem" Co. I will launch a musical comedy, entitled "Two Old Fellows," playing Summer resorts in Maine.

—Notes from "The Bell Boy" Co.: This company was reorganized at Plainfield on Dec. 27, 1904, under the title of the Johnny Galvin Comedy Co. We have been well booked up in three night stands by Mr. Doner, of New York. We use the comedy "The Bell Boy" as our opening bill, also presenting "A Wild Western Rose" and "An Irishman's Honeymoon," which are drawing well. The roster: Johnny Galvin, Ned Nelson, Jas. Harris, Jno. Kelly, Morris Sauber, James Grady, Jack Hamlin, Nat Orr, Irene Galvin, Ella Galvin, Mazie Drew, Henrietta Deshank, Ella Drew, Towne Sisters and James A. Galvin. Our chorus and musical numbers are a big success. James A. Galvin is manager, Ned Nelson, stage director; Sam Morris, advance representative; Jess Johnson, electrician.

—Notes from "In the Shadow of Night" Co., under the management of the Casino Amusement Stock Co., featuring Almee Landis: We are in our fifteenth week and have been playing to business that has been satisfactory in every way. Not in all towns has the S. R. O. been the rule, but we have had a few of them. We have played Canada and some of the best towns of the Southern States, and are now touring Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, playing three night week stands. Our repertory consists of the very best plays, melodramas and comedies.

—The success of "The Duchess of Dantzic" in New York has led George Edwards to arrange with Klav & Erlanger for a tour of this country next season with the entire company now presenting the piece here. In addition Mr. Edwards has agreed to produce "Veronique" with the English company now presenting it in London, as soon as the English season closes.

—Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the English actress, who has been a patient at the University Hospital, Philadelphia, since the night of Jan. 2, when she injured her kneecap, left the hospital Jan. 31. She is now at the home of Mrs. Spencer Ervin, Philadelphia, where she will remain until she is able to go to her home in London.

—Lotta Linthicum, the well known actress, was married Jan. 31, at her home in New York City, to Wm. Cantwell Strachan, of Montreal. Miss Linthicum will retire to private life, taking up her residence in Montreal.

—John Allen Reed, theatrical manager, filed a petition in bankruptcy Jan. 31, for the third time, his liabilities being $10,769; assets, none. The debts were contracted from 1901 to 1903, for salaries, printing, costumes, etc., for two road companies, "One of the Boys" and "Her Ladyship."

—The Arkwright-Richmond Co., that closed just before the holidays, will reopen in Southern Indiana Feb. 20, under the management of W. Belmont. They will play through to Colorado, opening a Summer season at Glenwood Springs, under canvas.

L. W. BUCKLEY, of the Theatre-Buckley Agency, states that the firm will, on May 1, occupy an entire building on Forty-second Street, New York. Some of the acts produced lately by the agency are Liquid Air Demonstrations, "Cinderella and Her Bitterly Court," Radiant musical act; a military production called "War," the Magic Kettle, Theatre's Original Nashville Students and other similar feature acts. R. F. Taylor, who successfully introduced the Magic Kettle in Europe, sailed Saturday, Jan. 28, for London, to open a branch house there for the Theatre-Buckley Agency. C. H. Norris has gone to Australia to open a branch office for this firm.

RUTH NELTA, well known on the vaudeville stage, was married at Milwaukee, Jan. 17, to Charles Kohl, a non-professional. Mr. and Mrs. Kohl will reside in Chicago.

A. H. KUEHNS, of Kuehns and Cole, has recovered from an attack of illness, and is ready to resume work.

CARDS.

I. B. T., New York.—A was right. He was not compelled to show his hand.

C. H., Hudson.—1. There is no begging net running the cards in pitch, and if all of the others refuse to bid, the dealer must pitch the trump. 2. No, a player can only beg once in a hand, and therefore it follows that the cards can only be run once.

R. D. McD., West Superior.—1. P's second ace does not make a run and he scores only two points for thirty-one. 2. If there is no game, the point is not counted. If there is a tie for game, the eldest hand scores the point. For other queries address the Attorney General of the United States, at Washington, D. C.

M. A. W., New Haven.—There is no run. J. C., Athens.—In playing twenty-one point casso the player who first makes the requisite number of points and claims out wins the game. In case neither party makes this claim, and, as in your case, on the count of the cards both players have enough points to put them in, then they must answer an additional number of points to be mutually decided upon. Usually, however, it is one deal. No one point takes precedence over another.

J. A. N., Shreveport.—A straight flush of any suit running from the ten to the ace is higher than a straight flush of any suit from ace to the six spot. The latter is the lowest straight flush that can be held.

RING.

W. S. S., Bridgeport.—It depends upon the wording of the bet. If it was that his man would win in less than fifteen rounds, A loses. If it was that his man would win in fifteen rounds, A wins.

J. J. McCa., Douglass.—Address a letter to one of the principals of the fight. F. R., Hackensack.—We have no means of knowing.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. M. B., Omaha.—The wording of your query makes it impossible for me to answer. If the bet was that New York and Maryland would go Republican, A loses, as Maryland went Democratic.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

Western Bureau
Of the New York Clipper, Room 502, Ashland Block, Chicago.

Considerable interest centres in the current days. On Monday, the American Theatre enters the regular list of amusement places, with a six weeks' run of "Ben Hur." Continued attractions down town are: "His Highness the Bey," at the La Salle; Richard Mansfield, at the Grand Opera House; Virginia Harwood, at the May and "The Girl and the Bandit" at the Studebaker. The coldest week of the present Winter ended Saturday, Feb. 4, with the weather considerably moderated from the first five days of the week.

Professor Davey, with his marionettes, and Nita Leete, who has created quite a sensation with the song, "The Man with the Ladder and the Hose," assisted by beautifully illustrated slides. The Salamboes, with their electrical novelties, the Fernandez May Trio, Fanny Powers, the Peschkeff troupe of Russian dancers and many others are on the bill. The wild animal arena is a strong attraction, while the picturesque and striking glimpses of Wild West life appeal strongly to Australian sympathy.

The only pantomime in the Commonwealth this year is being featured at the Theatre Royal. This old play-house has been entirely demolished with exception of the three outside walls, rebuilt and remodeled. There are now only two tiers instead of three, and these bring the audience closer to the stage.

Great interest was taken in the reopening on Monday night, when "Sinbad the Sailor" was produced, under Wm. Anderson's management. Elaine Ravensburg, a new principal boy from England, proved the chief attraction, owing to her pretty, beaming face, sweet voice and taste in costume. May Tolland, an old favorite, who has been away from Australia for seven years, made her appearance as Badoura, and was warmly welcomed back. The others in the cast are: Fred Graham, Bert Bailey, Frank Crossley (Ada Crossley's brother), George Dean, Charles Bates, Florrie Barnes, Nina Rochester and Stella Ganger.

At the Bijou Eugene Duggan and the players of Anderson's Dramatic Co. have produced the new melodrama, "Between Two Women," while Hackenschmidt is the star feature at the Opera House.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

Clipper Bureau,
48 Cranbourne Street,
Leicester Square,
London, W. C.

JAN. 28.

London playgoers, in search of novelty, found their desires realized at the Avenue Theatre last Saturday, when the members of the St. Petersburg Dramatic Co. presented, in the Russian language, the drama, "The Chosen People." It is the first time the Russian tongue has been spoken on an English stage, and while the majority of those who witnessed the first performance were attracted by the unusual character of the programme, the enthusiasm with which the audience greeted by others in the house, indicated that there is in London a considerable number of Russians. Dealing with the present position of the Jews in the Czar's territory, "The Chosen People" is a play of a pamphlet than a play, but its purpose, that of presenting the antagonism between the old and new generation of the Russian Jews, is skilfully brought out, and the author presents a striking picture of the condition of the unhappy people. The acting of N. Orloff, as an old Jewish watchmaker, who believes in the destiny of his race, is very earnest, and he receives good support from his comrades in the company, who will proceed to the United States after the engagement at the Avenue Theatre. The last act, which concludes with a terribly realistic scene of massacres and pillage, of the Kishineff, was splendidly acted, and at the fall of the curtain, there was an enthusiastic demonstration from the cosmopolitan audience. It was not only the drama that attracted the playgoers, but the fact that it contributed to cause the curtain to be raised no less than six times.

In order to avoid any misapprehension, it should be stated that the version of "Tatterley," which E. S. Willard has taken with him to America, is an entirely new play, in three acts, written by Tom Gallon, who has embodied in his work certain important suggestions made by Mr. Willard. In the piece that actor will double the parts of the old miser, Caleb Fry, and the devoted wife, whose name furnishes the title of the novel. Mr. Willard further takes with him an adaptation, by Leon M. Lion, of another of Mr. Gallon's novels, "Dicky Montell."

Mrs. Langtry was in court last week in the capacity of defendant in the case of Allen v. De Bathe. H. Marsh Allen, an actor now playing in town, sought to recover from her $2,300, which was sixteen weeks' salary, which he said was due him for taking the part of Jimmy Foster in "Mrs. Langtry's Divorce." In New York. At the end of the month Mr. Allen was succeeded, although no complaint, it was stated, was made of his capacity. He was offered four weeks' salary by Mrs. Langtry. The judge rendered a decision in favor of the defendant.

Henri de Vries, a Dutch actor who made an emphatic hit at the Albert Hall Theatre last year, begins a new season at the Royalty early next month. The bill, a double one, will be composed of an adaptation of the two acts of French play, "L'Adventure," an English version, entitled "A Case of Art," of the Dutch piece in which Mr. de Vries was formerly seen. In this he impersonated seven out of the nine characters concerned in the development of the story.

On Jan. 18 every member of the audience at the Adelphi Theatre was presented with a handsome souvenir to commemorate the sixtieth performance of "Taming of the Shrew," which remarkably fine presentation has deservedly playing to big business. The souvenir was a portfolio containing a series of really admirable portraits of the actors and actresses in their respective parts, forming a well executed and interesting series of portraits of stage favorites. The playgoers assembled, and Otto Stuart made an announcement that seemed to please them more than the gift. He announced that when "Taming of the Shrew" shall have run its course it will be succeeded by "Hamlet," with H. B. Irving as the ill-fated Danish prince.

George Grossmith Jr. made his reappearance at the Gaiety Theatre on Thursday evening last, when he resumed his original part in "The Orchid," and introduced several new songs and new business.

Maudie Fealy, the young American actress, who is at present one of the leading ladies in Sir Henry Irving's Co., will have the honor of playing the principal female role in the forthcoming revival of Louis XI., which Sir Henry is putting in his repertory for his provincial tour, which started at Portsmouth last Monday night.

Charles Brookfield's adaptation of M. Jean Richepin's "Du Barry" is due at the Savoy Theatre early in February. Gilbert Hare has secured from the Comedie Francaise the designs of the dresses of the period of the play.

A. J. Hamilton Warden has acquired the rights of "The City of Millions," a drama, by William Baily and Charles Berte, which has been toured by Madge Girdlestone. Mr. Warden will take the piece on tour in the Spring, and intends to produce it most elaborately, with the introduction of several new features.

An opera competition has just been decided in Warsaw, and the prize of 5,000 roubles won by the Polish composer, Roman Strakoski. The successful work is entitled "Maria," and is founded on a poem by Malezewski.

Philip Yorke, manager of the tour of Sousa and his band in England, states that it is more than probable that Mr. Sousa's opera, "The Bride Elect," will be produced in London in April, under the composer's direction. The necessary negotiations are being actively conducted, and the production is to be made as perfect in every way as is possible. While speaking of the great bandmaster it might be well to add that he and his associates are making the biggest kind of a hit in this country, the papers going out of their way to give them deserved credit. Last Sunday two concerts were given at the Alhambra, Leicester Square, and at both performances not a seat could be found vacant ten minutes after the doors were opened.

The Oxford management presents a new departure this week in the engagement of Mrs. Charles Sugden, well known London favorite, who appears in a new musical and musical and choral effects, reviewing the events of the past year, written for her by J. C. Macmanus, entitled "The Pictures of the Year."

Martin and Quigg, known as a man and a half, made their English debut on the Moss tour at Sheffield, Jan. 16, and they were well received. This week they are at the Bordesley Palace, Birmingham.

I just received word from Alf Meers, of the "Three Meers," that the trio goes to the month of February, instead of Budapest, as previously announced. Mr. Meers adds that during the past weeks, at the Central Theatre, Dresden, the Meers and others on the bill have had several lay offs owing to the theatre being leased by Isadora Duncan, an American girl, who dances in her bare feet some time, in the interest of Thomson & Dundy's New York enterprises, sailed for New York last Wednesday. His departure from these shores was a little hurried, a week ago, but a slight attack of pneumonia detained the gentleman. While here Mr. Meers is said to have secured a number of good European novelties. If there is such a thing as the perfect novel, it is here.

Another bunch of cards from Klein, Ott Brothers and Nicholson. I must say this enterprising quartet of musicians are keeping me well informed of their coming to London. They will probably spend the glorious Fourth in mild weather, as they are billed to open at the London Hippodrome on July 17.

C. H. Bowmaker, who lately managed the Surrey, has been appointed manager of the Empire, Nottingham, by Oswald Stoll. Another change which comes to my mind is that of the appointment of Arthur M. Hind as press representative of the Alhambra, London. Mr. Hind has been for some years on the staff of "The Sporting Times."

Swan and Bamford called last Tuesday. They are at the Empire, Hackney, this week, and are topping the bill. Their eccentric comedy acrobatics work has been very successful in all the provincial towns, and their position on the bill this week is justly deserved.

Last Monday commenced the third and last week of the Tossing Austins, in pantomime, at the Royal Theatre, Nottingham. A short tour of some of the big American show towns follows, then a return trip to this country. Mrs. Austin, Katherine Dahl, will accompany her husband. I am in receipt of a set of photographs of Miss Dahl, for which I extend my warmest thanks.

Meier and Mora, who are at the Alhambra, Paris, are doing their act, or that is the talking part of it, in French, and have been complimented by the management for their skilful handling of the strange language.

Eva Vestris, who finished her month's engagement at the Palace Theatre last Saturday night, and is resting at present. She has been offered other engagements in this country, but may jump back to the States immediately. London is a great city in many ways, but one likes to get a view of America once in a while. One of the men who has been in this country nearly a year, shares this same opinion, and, having a successful vehicle to show her cleverness, is anxious to exhibit it to playgoers in the land of the free and the brave.

A big surprise was given in local theatrical circles was the closing of the Moulin Rouge, in Paris. I am informed that poor management was the cause of the failure, which closed the doors to the public. Lowell and Lowell, the comedy acrobats, had just opened at this house, and in which brings me to the fact that it is more than probable that they may return to America this week. The closing of the famous resort also gave the following a vacation: Kara, Baggesen, Arnold and Albi, Burt's dogs, Ferranti and the Eight Cocktails.

Handel Victor Phassey, bandmaster of Phassey's Band, was a recent Clipper Bureau caller. An Englishman by birth, Mr. Phassey has been in America for ten or more years, and has been very successful in that country with his band, and has a beautiful provincial tour with the band, and will be heard in London in the near future.

The Reiff Brothers, acknowledged by all who have seen them on this side to be among the best dancers visiting this country from America, are both in the bill at the Adelphi this week, and without any exaggeration, they are the hit of the show. They are billed, "A Coliseum Success, The Brothers Reiff." "Drummed Out," a dramatic sketch, the bill, while Starr and Leslie made it.

Clifford C. Fischer, the vaudeville agent, arrived in London a few days ago and will remain here until Sunday, when he goes to Berlin. Mr. Fischer informs me that he is in search of big acts for America. I hope he will succeed in finding some, but as I stated in a previous paragraph, novelties are very scarce at present in England and even on the continent, as

A positive novelty and sure fire hit in (one) a real Dutch act by two real Dutch Comedians. We carry a miniature air ship, and every trip we take causes 18 minutes of solid laughter. After 26 weeks with Al Reeves' Co., we close to go in vaudeville. OPEN FROM WEEK OF FEB. 13 ON. Address, week of Feb. 6, Bon Ton Theatre, Jersey City. After that, all good agents.

and 36ft. deep. The dressing rooms are eleven in number, fixed up with every convenience for the players. Seven hundred and eighty chairs and six lockers in the building, which is also heated by hot air. The new playhouse has been leased for a long term by the Leath Amusement Co., of which Jake Wells is general manager. The Marine Orchestra, of Washington, D. C., furnished the music for the opening night.

Music and Song.

Notes from the Witmark Co.—Lillian Mills, who is touring the New England circuit, is making a hit with "Prove It to Me."

Theatrical Music Supply Co. Notes.—Two of the most pronounced songs of the day are "Glad to You" and "Sadie, My Dusky Lady" published by the Theatrical Music Supply Co. These songs are making good in the hands of scores of performers who write in that they can't sing them without attracting the public. These songs admit of splendid business, and are eminently suitable for soubrettes. A new coin song, "I Ain't Got No Money," which already looks like a prize winner for black face work. "The Old Folks at Home" and "The Old Folks at Home" are popular, and none are more so than "Her Boy in Blue," by Chas. W. Doty, a splendid story of love and duty set in a melody that is extremely catchy and pretty. "Daddy's Little Girl" is a new song, and is the story of an orphan child seeking her parents, dead and gone. The melody is as beautiful as the story. Slides for these two songs have been made by C. De Witt Wheeler, and are the best of the kind ever made. The day of the decline from popular favor of high class ballads will never come. They will last forever. One of the latest and best is "Just for My Sweetheart's Sake," and already it is being sung by the best known singers, and is bound to be a big success.

She recently put on "Listen to the Big City Bands," which also secured another success for her. Carl Haydn, one of the leading vocalists in "The Girl from Paris," now touring the South, has recently decided hit with "Star of My Life," and the public and performers are unanimous in their praise of the song and singer. "I Won't Tell You" is to be made a special feature with Maude Gray and the Odessa Theatre, now playing at the Odessa Theatre, St. Louis. One of the songs that is attracting special attention on the vaudeville stage is "Star of My Life," being sung by many, among whom may be mentioned Edna Edwards and the Empire City Quartet. "Booker and Coley," has a prominent place with "It's a Hard Game." Aladdin Libbey, the well known vocalist, is continuing to create enthusiasm with his songs, such as "Sweethearts, You and I," and the probability of his being in the vaudeville repertory. "He's Me Pal," the new song by Bryan and Edwards, is destined to become a great favorite on the vaudeville stage, such well known singers as the following having already sung it recently: Charles May, Max Abel, Jack Golden, Ada Jones, Virginia Luckick, James O'Neill and Mildred Stroller. "Kate Kearney" is still being favorably re-

Notes from Jos. W. Stern & Co.—Lulu Glaser, in "The Madcap Princess," of which production Jos. W. Stern & Co. publish the music, is meeting with deserved success everywhere. Mr. Hardie Langdon, music in production is very delicate and artistic, and has won much commendation, particularly the songs "Beautiful Isle of the Sea," "The Cavalier Song," "The Madcap Princess," "Kings of the Sea" and "The Cavalier Song." The latter is a song satire, "Any Old Tree," has been such a success for Marie Cahill, in Lew Fields' production, "It Happened in Nordland," that she has requested Mr. Temple to write a number of extra verses which he has done. They are being rehearsed by the company, and the actor, and she is greatly pleased with them. Another of Stern & Co.'s songs which Miss Cahill is singing with great success is "Dingle Dangle Dell," written by Clare Kummer, whose song, "Tempt," is such a success with the girls. From "The Girl of the Year," Kummer's songs are all very clever, and are heard from as soon as offered to the public. Marion Garson, who was a feature at the Yorkville Theatre during the week of Jan. 2, repeated several of the songs of the Koveras songs, "Garden of Dreams" and "You Call The Mine," both of which were received with much enthusiasm by the audiences. Hardie Langdon is featuring Cole & Johnson's "Lazy Moon," and A. Baldwin Sloane's closing song, "Remember Me," at the Strand Theatre in Heaven that They Call Broadway.

"The College Widower," Weber & Ziegfeld's

burlesque on George Ade's "The College Widow," is a big success. The music is written by Max Baer, lyrics by Edgar Smith. The two new songs used in this burlesque, it is predicted, will soon be popular "hits." One, a coon song oddity, "Socrates Jackson," sung by Charles E. Bigelow and chorus; the other, a rouser, "Ragtime Encores," and "Mauma's Boarding House," sung by Marie Dressler, has the audience convulsed at each performance. The "Higgledy Piggledy" burlesque still continues a winner. The level of the show is maintained by "The Game of Love," "Big Indian and His Little Maid," "I'm So Lonesome," "A Great Big Girl," "Nancy Clancy," "In Gay Paree" and "You Honey, For You." Mr. Levi also has produced a new musical comedy, "Armenoville," with his publisher, and sufficient to say, it is a Maurice Levi waltz, and will be heard in ballrooms in America, and Broadway welcome to the dance and orchestra leader, who has the ability to lead out for a good, dreamy waltz, which are and have been very scarce the past year. All the Leo Feist publications.—Joe Hardman, the well known monopolist, is playing numerous club dates, featuring "Didn't Father Admire Me?" "My Name" and "Toby Craig." Toby Craig of the Liberty Bell Co., according to press reports, stops the action of the play by the success of her numbers, "Billy" and "Honey, I'm Waiting." He is highly successful in drawing her audience time and again. Mr. Connelly of the same show, is more than making good with the clever topical song, "Didn't Father Admire Have an Easy Time—One of Them Days When We Didn't Know What Ruben's Gone Away." The Manilla Quartet composed of Clarence Bowen, Harry Simpson, West Jenkins and Oscar Paul, have been playing over the Proctor circuit, and their act is the best thing since Ted Barron's latest hit, "Honey, I'm Waiting," and they never failed to get encore.

Lillian Jennettte, soubrette, writes to say she is sorry she was not making good with her little "Zu-o-o-o-lu" and "Honey, I'm Waiting."

Notes from Sol Bloom.—Ogarita Arnold, of the Little Coed Co., is making a success with her rendition of "A Little Brown Man of Japan," which is Sol Bloom's first publication of William H. Penn's. Williams and Melburn have just produced, in a novel manner, Henry Clay Smith's "tough" waltz song, "The Duchess of Second Avenue." The Allison (Jack and Maud) are having their first, and well-merited, success with "The Little Girl," which, as far as music is concerned, is entirely new. The songs being furnished to them by Sol Bloom are being well-received, whose work with the Klaw & Erlanger forces in their big productions of "A Little

"In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," referred to as one of the greatest ballad hits of the day, and in speaking of it one competent to judge had this to say: "Irrespective of labor, effort or time, Jerome H. Roach and Ick & Co., New York, have produced a gem of 1905. If "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," by Williams and Van Alstyne, does not prove to be the natural successor of "Hallelujah," then will the prognostication of "The Song of the Suzzanna" count for nothing." The efforts of Moses Gumley, the armorer-in-charge of the professional bureau, are verily bringing golden grain to the bin of profit. It is ready there are scores of professional singers waiting the receipt of their money, especially prepared to sing songs which are filled fast enough for the enormous demand.

Among the acts who are featuring George W. Setchell's new song, "Tommy," by Taylor and Kennedy, are: The Musical Cuttys, of Philadelphia; the musical duo, Gustav and Navajo Girls; the musical duo, Gus Archer's Filipino Girls; Bonita and picture show, the Watermelon Trust, Grace Leacock, the "American Vesta Tilley," announces the first of one of the biggest successes she has

Chas. K. Harris' new song, entitled "Sweet Maid Divine," interpolated in the Frank L. Perley "The Girl and the Band" Co., is now the hit of Chicago, and has them whistling on the streets. This song was destined to be one of the season's greatest successes.

Music and Song.

Theatrical Music Supply Co. Notes.—Two of the most pronounced song hits of the day are "Fooling You" and "Sadie, My Ducky Lady," published by the Theatrical Music Supply Co. These songs are making good in the hands of scores of performers who write in that they can't sing them often enough to suit the public. These songs admit of splendid business, and are eminently suitable for soubrettes and are eminently suitable for popular and none are more so than "Fooling You" and "Sadie, My Ducky Lady." "Fooling You" is a melody that is extremely catchy and pretty. "Does This Train Go to Heaven?" tells a pathetic story of an orphan child seeking her parents, dead and gone. The melody is as beautiful as the story. Slides for these two songs have been made by C. De Witt Wheeler, and are the most artistic ever flashed on the sheet. The day of the decline from popular favor of high class ballads will never come. They will last forever. One of the latest and best is "Just for My Sweetheart's Sake," and already in the hands of well known singers, who report it a big success.

Notes from the Wiltmark Co.—Lillian Mills, who is touring the New England circuit, is making a hit with "Prove It to Me," which has become one of her favorite songs. She recently put on "Listen to the Big Brass Band," which also scored another success for her. Carl Haydn, one of the leading vocalists in "The Girl from Paris," now touring the South, has made a decided hit with "Star of My Life," and the press and public are unanimous in their praise of the song and singer. "I Won't Tell You" is to be made a special feature with Maude Gray and the Bonita Girls, now playing at the Odeon Theatre, St. Louis. One of the songs that is attracting special attention on the vaudeville stage is "Star of My Life," being sung by many, among whom may be mentioned Marion Garson and the Empire City Quartet. Booker and Corley have made a pronounced hit with "It's a Hard Game." J. Aldrich Libbey, the well known vocalist, is continuing to create enthusiasm with his song, "When We Were Sweethearts, You and I," and the probability is he will keep it on his repertory. "He's Me Pal," the new song by Bryan and Edwards, is destined to become a great favorite on the vaudeville stage, such well known singers as the following having tried it recently: Beatrice Golden, Abel, Jack Golden, Ada Jones, Virginia LeVick, James O'Neill and Mildred Stroller. "Kate Kearney" is still being favorably received. Charles Foreman, Laura Millard, John Walsh, Charles Burdick and Babe Lund will probably use this song, as they express a great admiration for it.

Chas. K. Harris, as publisher of musical comedies, also interpolations in different productions, is now a main factor in the music publishing line. Some of the successful songs and interpolations as published by him are: "Higgledy Piggledy," Weber & Ziegfeld's successful musical melange, by Levi and Smith; "His Highness, the Bey," the La Salle Theatre's (Chicago) biggest musical success, by Hough, Adams and Howard; "Schach Kiddy," Geo. the Broad: "Babes in Toyland," at the Opera House, "Woodland," at the Chestnut and "Weatherbeaten Benson," at the Walnut, all continued well. "The Eternal City," at the Park, and other combination offerings, opened prosperously. Patrons of stock houses turned out and loyally rewarded praiseworthy performance. The vaudeville at Keith's, minstrels at the Eleventh, curios and vaudeville at the Museum, and other attractions all fared well.

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The storm of yesterday had a tendency to interfere with business at all places of amusement. The Bank Officers' Association produced "The Filibusters" at the Tremont to a sold out house. Wm. Faversham, in "Lettie," scored a most notable success at the Colonial. Annie Russell was welcomed at the Park, in "The Girl from Kay's." At the Grand Opera House "Driven from Home" was well patronized. Stock bills drawing well were: "Held by the Enemy," at the Castle Square, and "The Great Train Robbery," at the Bowdoin Square. Continued attractions were: Ethel Barrymore, in "Susan," at the Hotel; "Mrs. Wiggs, of the Cabbage Patch," at the Boston; "The Shepherd King," at the Majestic; and "The Burgomaster," at the Globe. Vaudeville and burlesque houses had nothing to complain of in the way of attendances.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 7.—Good openings were in evidence this week, and Sam Bonard and Hattie Williams, in "The Girl from Kay's," were the biggest kind of a success at Davidson's. "The Lighthouse by the Sea" also went well at the Alhambra. Florence Bindley, in "The Street Singer," drew an enthusiastic audience at the Bijou. The Thanhouser production of "The Eternal City," at the Academy of Music, was a most praiseworthy performance. At the Star the Gay Masqueraders ran close to capacity at the matinee and turned them away at night.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—"Love's Lottery" was given its Cincinnati premier at the Grand yesterday, with Mme. Schumann-Helk as the star, and she was greeted by a splendid audience. James J. Corbett's welcome in "Fals" drew the largest crowd in popularity. "David Harum" returned to the Walnut Street to business that felt the billiard. At the Lyceum Barney Gilmore revived "Kidnapped in New York." "Sowing the Wind" was put on at Robinson's, by the Forepaugh Stock Company. Vaudeville filled the Columbia and the Knickerbocker Burlesquers drew well at People's.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Kyrle Belle opened in "Raffles," at the National, to a full house. Forbes Robertson, in "Love and the Man," had a capacity audience at the Columbia. "Old Kentucky" had its usual cordial reception at the Academy—standing room only. Mary Norman, in "Masks and Faces," was the top liner at Chase's, crowning the house after noon and night. The Bowers Burlesquers had two big audiences at the Lyceum.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 7.—Mildred Holland, in "The Triumph of an Empress," opened to fair business at the Willis Wood. Two packed houses saw Eva Tanguay, in "The Sambo Girl," at the Grand. The Orpheum, McMahon's Minstrel Maids were the headliners. The Gillis packed them twice to see "The Fatal Wedding." Two large houses greeted "Coon Hollow" at the Auditorium. At the Academy the Runaway Girls were cordially received.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 7.—William Gillette opened at Macanley's, in "The Admirable Crichton," to a good house. "David Harum," at the Masonic, attracted a large audience. "A Prisoner of War," at the Avenue; the Blue Ribbon Girls, at the Buck; and "The Great Train Robbery," were well patronized at the Sunday openings.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia.—Only four of the local offerings are held over from last week, while the rest of the list contains a goodly sprinkling of novelties. There appeared to be no diminution last week in the patronage at the local playhouses, the size of the attendance leaving no room for complaint.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—"Carmen" is to be performed on Tuesday evening of this week, with a cast including: Mmes. Fremstad, Aekte, Ralph, Jacoby, M. M. Salema, Jourmet, Parria, Dufreche, Heles, and others. The Friday afternoon and Saturday evening concerts, by the Philadelphia Orchestra, will have Fritz Kreisler as soloist.

BROAD STREET THEATRE (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—"The first week of John Drew's fortnight engagement in 'The Duke of Killcrankie' brought out audiences that completely filled this house, and their verdict was that his offering this year is the best he has had for some time. The leading role suits John Drew admirably, while his company is fully equal to the demands made by the other characters. The current week closes the engagement, and next week brings Forbes Robertson in 'Love and the Man'."

GARRICK THEATRE (Frank Howe Jr., manager).—"Two weeks of 'The Cingales', although furnishing entertainment for many and showing some clever work by the members of a good company, proved too English in spirit to be generally popular in this country, and it is now understood that the management has withdrawn the attraction until radical changes can be made. Lione Barrymore, in 'The Other Girl', holds the boards during this and the coming week. Eleanor Robson, in 'Merely Mary Ann', Feb. 20.

CHESTNUT STREET OPERA HOUSE (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—"Habs in Toyland," which began its engagement at this house last week, fully deserves the success which it achieved. The audiences which crowded the house found it a pleasing and entertaining musical comedy, and the childish innocence of it all appealed to them. The engagement continues during this and next week, and will be followed Monday, 20, by Nance O'Neil in 'The Merry Widow'."

CHESTNUT STREET THEATRE (Nixon & Zimmerman, managers).—"The Cingales," although furnishing entertainment for many and showing some clever work by the members of a good company, proved too English in spirit to be generally popular in this country, and it is now understood that the management has withdrawn the attraction until radical changes can be made. Lione Barrymore, in 'The Other Girl', holds the boards during this and the coming week. Eleanor Robson, in 'Merely Mary Ann', Feb. 20.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE (Frank Howe Jr., manager).—"Probably a little better than anything he has yet offered in 'Weather-beaten Benson', which Ezra Kendall presented here for the first time last week. An admirable part falls to the star's lot, and out of it he squeezes all the humor possible. This week ends the engagement, which is meeting with financial success, and next week brings 'The Jewel of Asia'."

CASINO (Elias, Koenig & Lederer, managers).—"The lengthy and profitable engagement of 'Smiling Island' came to a close last week, and this week we have the first American presentation of 'Mama's Papa' by Joseph Hart, Carrie De Mar and their company. This is a musical farce, adapted by Joseph Hart from Lauf's 'Aufgedreht.' Original lyrics have been written by Joseph Hart, and the music has been furnished by A. Baldwin Sloan."

PARK THEATRE (F. G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, manager).—"The long and prosperous run for 'The Old Homestead' came to an end last week, and during this and next week the offering is Edward J. Morgan and company, in 'The Eternal City.' 'Way Down East' is announced for Feb. 20."

NATIONAL THEATRE (Joseph M. Kelly, manager).—"Wm. T. Keogh's production of the melodrama, 'The Child Wife,' holds the boards at this house this week. The patrons turned out loyally last week, and applauded the thrilling performance of 'Wedded, But No Wife.' Terry McGovern is scheduled for next week."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (G. A. Wegefarth, manager).—"Me, Him and I," Hurlig & Seemon's musical production, has its first local performances at this house this week. Bickel, Watson and Wrothe are at the head of the extensive cast. Busy 'Izzy' comes next week. Last week, in 'Old Kentucky' showed undiminished popularity by keeping the house filled."

BLANEY'S ARCH STREET THEATRE (M. S. Schlessinger, manager).—"There was a succession of filled houses last week with the melodrama, 'Two Little Waifs,' as the bill. This week, 'A Little Outcast' holds the boards. 'Queen of the Highway' is underlined for the coming week."

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (F. G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, manager).—"The thrilling performance of 'Trackers Around the World' met with favor last week, and enjoyed liberal patronage. This week's offering is 'Across the Pacific,' with 'A Desperate Chance' scheduled to follow."

GRAND AVENUE THEATRE (Miller & Kaufman, managers).—"The patrons were out in force last week and they appeared to thoroughly appreciate Al. H. Wilson and company, in 'The Watch on the Rhine.' This week Broadway & Currie's production of 'The Three Guardsmen' will be presented. David Higgins, in 'His Last Dollar,' comes next week."

HART'S NEW THEATRE (John W. Hart, manager).—"Manager Hart has provided for the delectation of his patrons this week, 'On the Suwannee River,' while 'The Charity Nurse' is scheduled to follow. 'On the Bridge at Midnight,' last week, proved to be a melodrama to the liking of the filled houses. FOREPAUGH'S THEATRE (Miller & Kaufman, managers).—"After earning fresh laurels and delighting the patrons with an excellent production of 'The Three Guardsmen,' the stock company is now presenting 'The Octoroon.' For the coming week 'In the Palace of the King' is in preparation."

STANDARD THEATRE (Darcy & Speck, managers).—"A melodrama, entitled 'Under the Russian Flag,' is the offering by the stock company this week. A succession of filled houses attended the performances of 'Why Women Sin' last week, and applauded the excellent work of the members of the stock company. 'The Little Red Boys' is in rehearsal for the coming week."

SAAKE'S BIJOU THEATRE (Carl Saake, manager).—"Flashmann as Educator" and "Our Darling" are offerings by the German stock company this week."

KEITH'S NEW THEATRE (H. T. Jordan, resident manager).—"A capital programme has been arranged for the current week, including: Troba, Edmund Day and company. Hassan Ben Ali's Togoonia Arabs, O'Brien and Havel, three Dumbos, Dillon Brothers, Village Choir, La Vite, Clamron Trio, Martini and Maximilian, Inman and Hull, Morton and Diamond, Yackley and Bannell, Valveno Brothers, Nessen and Nessen and the Glimmer."

BOX THEATRE (Bon Ton Amusement Co., managers).—"On the bill this week are: Nebraska Bill's miniature Wild West, Hanley and Valesco, Reese Sisters, Darren and Forrest, Rogers and Roy, Kathryn Miley, West and Black, Jerden and West, Frank Harpe, Nellie Kent, Almi and Olma, and moving pictures."

ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE (Frank Dumont, manager).—"The same bill which amused the patrons last week and created roars of laughter, is continued this week. Bunchanged Business, the new attraction, the seating capacity being filled at each performance."

Fred Zimmerman, and business manager of the Chestnut Street Theatre, was married last week to Sara Trevo Fowler, at the Church of the Incarnation. The New Nations was discharged from the University Hospital last week, cured. After spending a few days with friends in this city she will go to New York for rehearsals. J. W. Wallace, actor and playwright, who, two decades ago, achieved fame in melodrama and comedy, died at his home in Philadelphia, Jan. 31, from a complication of diseases. Mr. Wallace was stricken with apoplexy two years ago. He was born in Philadelphia April 19, 1848, and entered the profession at the age of eighteen, retiring from the stage in 1894. During his career as a character actor, Mr. Wallace played many roles in almost every city in the United States. He also, as an actor-manager, took over several companies of his own, playing the leading male roles himself. His favorite plays were: 'Brought to Light,' 'The Clemenceau Case,' 'From the Altar to the Scaffold,' 'Messmates,' 'The Willow Copse' and 'The Octoroon.' The parts he particularly favored were: Jim Pinch, in 'Brought to Light,' Bob Giltstone, in 'The Destroying Angels,' and Jacob Squills, in 'Guilt.' Among the best known of the plays which he wrote were: 'The Destroying Angels,' 'Brought to Light,' 'Guilt,' and 'From the Altar to the Scaffold.' The New Nations Theatre, at Tenth and Callowhill Streets, Philadelphia, opened with one of Wallace's plays, and in July, 1876, together with J. M. Bradford, he leased the National from the late Thomas Kelly for a brief summer season. Wallace was business manager and was prominently cast in the repertory produced during the engagement. His wife, three sons and two daughters survive him. Interment was in Oakland Cemetery, Philadelphia.

DEATHS IN THE PROFESSION.—GILBERT V. M. RABEY, better known in the profession as "Gill" Ryder, died in New Brunswick, N. J., Jan. 31, and his remains were interred Feb. 1, in Greenwood Cemetery. He was born in New York in 1825, and made his first appearance on the stage in 1844. He fought in the Rebellion of 1861. He was with the celebrated Charles Furbush Com-blation in 1872, and continued with that company for three seasons, playing old men. After leaving this company he married Charles M. Walcott's widow, whose maiden name was Miss Powell. She is the mother of the present Chas. Walcott. Mr. Ryder's last engagement was with "Light-o'-Lantern Co." He had not acted for several years.

CHARLES EDWARD SNYDER, a veteran acrobat, who was for about twenty years one of the Three Herbert Brothers, acrobats, died Jan. 30, at Muncie, Ind., from consumption. He was the youngest of the three, and was taken by Charles Robinson, famous as the organizer of the acrobatic trio, the Herbert Brothers, and made the third member of the troupe. During the time of his travel with the trio Snyder visited every town and city of note in New Mexico, the United States and Canada. He is the second of the original Three Herbert Brothers to pass away, Charles Robinson having died several years ago. Two brothers and a sister survive him.

MRS. JULIA MCCOY, a buck and wing dancer, sourette and magician, died at the Sisters Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 29, from Bright's disease. She was in her twenty-ninth year. She began her stage career in 1889, and of late years had been successfully appearing in her husband's companies. She is survived by her husband, Dave L. McCoy.

IRA TREN ECK, a singer, died Jan. 28, in Chicago, from pneumonia. For the past twelve years she had appeared in the vaudeville theatres and concert halls of the West, and at the time she was taken ill she was playing at the London Dime Museum, Chicago.

On Jan. 23, when the company was playing St. Joseph, Mr. Honey was taken to the hospital suffering from acute melancholia. Later he was attacked with pneumonia, which was the direct cause of death. Mr. Honey was of English birth and came to America as a member of "The Shop Girl" Co. Later he was with William Gillette, as the cockney thief in "Sherlock Holmes." He also was with law & Branger two seasons. After the close of "A Clean Slate" Mr. Honey was engaged for the part of the porter in "The Girl from Kay's," which he played up to the time of his illness. His wife and two children were with him when he died. The funeral will take place Thursday, Feb. 9, from Campbell's Undertaking Establishment, in Twenty-third Street, New York, and will be in charge of the Actors' Fund. Interment will be private.

We played Merida, Campeche and Progreso, all in Yucatan. We arrived here two days ago. We leave tomorrow for Mexico City, where we finish in about four weeks, and will return to New York to join McCadden's New Circus for the season in Europe, and also have a contract with the above circus for a daily balloon ascension as a free attraction. Have also increased the size of our car three times. We make the same route to the coming season, making the second with this company. Triangular College Chess.

Brown, Cornell and University of Pennsylvania held their 6th annual tilt at the German Press Club, this city, Dec. 29-31 ult. The gaudy of victory was to be a year's possession of the new Rice trophy, for it will be remembered that Cornell by its victory last year secured absolute possession of Professor Rice's first gift to this league. As though to avoid a disagreeable appearance of monotony, this time victory perched on the banner of the U. of P.

"Old Penn. came within an ace of losing the advantage gained in the earlier rounds, for Johnston, U. of P., who had done splendid execution in the earlier rounds and was considered by many the best man in the tourney, succumbed to Mitchell, of Cornell, in six moves by falling into the latter's trap.

"Brown's players lost a number of capital opportunities to win games and, but for their unreliability at critical points, might have secured premiership for the Providence University which, so far, has failed to land the coveted prize.

The final individual records of the players stand thus: U. of P.—Johnston and Kirkpatrick, both, 2½ to 1½; Cornell—Mitchell, 3-1 (best score); Darling, 1½-2½; Brown—Van Arsdale, 1½-2½; Burton, 1-3. Giving the totals for each university, U. of P., 5 to 3; Cornell, 4½-3½; Brown 2½-5½.

The officers for next year are: President, Professor Isaac L. Rice; vice do., M. B. Kirkpatrick (U. of P.); secretary, Herman Helms (Manager, Hartwig Cassel). The next tourney of this league is set for Dec. 27-30, '05. It was voted to arrange a 6-board match with the quadrangular "big four" league, if possible.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to Professor Rice for his generous interest in the organization; also to the German Press Club for the use of its rooms.

As Bro. Helms (Eagle) presents the following game, presumably he considers it a fair specimen of the play in this tourney.

Passing Events.

Of notable events we may first notice the appearance of a new chess department in The Philadelphia Inquirer, by our champion, Harry N. Pillsbury. We present a sample of its high quality. . . . The best resume of College Chess and analysis of the play and style of the contestants ever written, given in Corsair 28th ult., by Dr. Elmer E. Southard. It will command wide attention, and those directly concerned should profit by it. . . . We rarely take much stock in chess precocities; but young Jose Paul Capablanca, of Havana, seems beyond the common run. Omitting the marvels of extreme youth, at twelve years of age he's here, and at the Manhattan C. C. won a game of 29 moves vs. J. D. Redding, Esq. At a certain point he was asked what he would have done had Mr. R. taken an offered hook. "I would have mated you in ten moves," said he, and promptly showed the CASTLE AND COLLINS report success over the Keith and Proctor circuits with their new black face singing and talking act. EDWIN COLLINS and MADOLINE KEENE, who have just finished an extensive tour of the leading vaudeville houses of the middle West, will return to New York about April 1, to produce their new version of "Moonie, the Expressman," which is at present in the hands of a well known author. Special scenery and electrical effects have been provided. THE SMITHS, CHAS. JR. and JANE, were among the features at a benefit at the Garrick Theatre, Philadelphia, Jan. 27, and they were accorded four big recalls at the finish of their act. They were also very successful at Rockstead, Garrick Theatre, Wilmington, Del., week of Jan. 30-Feb. 4, in their act, by Edmund Day, entitled "In Dixieland," in which their vocalisms, and especially the "Old Mammy" black face character work of Jane Smith, are the bright features of an excellent act.

A BIG RUSSIAN TRAINED BEAR caused considerable trouble at the new Colonial Music hall, evening of Feb. 3, during a rehearsal, rushing onto the stage and attacking several of the performers. John Blodgett, John McCree were the most severely injured. As the bear rushed on to the stage he struck Miles Blondell, knocked her down, and struck at savagely at her. Mr. McCree was the first to reach Miles Blondell. He seized the brute and tried to drag it away from her, and, too, was "bitten and deep gashes were cut in his arms and legs by the bear's claws. The bear was finally captured and confined, and Miles Blondell and Mr. McCree were sent to their homes. It was said at the theatre that the bear, which was to perform a wrestling act with Carl Glass, was not caged nor hained, through some error.

Atlantic City.—At the New Savoy (Fred E. Moore, manager) "Polly Primrose" had a fair house Jan. 30. Margaret Anglin drew a big audience. "A Royal Slave" enjoyed satisfactory business Feb. 1. "Queen of the Highway" attracted excellent business 2, 3.
Nat C. Goodwin packed the house 4. Thurday's "The Middleman" opened this attractive house 2. To good attendance, for three nights. Nothing announced week of 6.
On Feb. 2 the doors of the New Ocean Pier Theatre opened for the first time, after one month after the New Savoy Theatre made its first bid for patronage. The New Ocean Pier stands upon the foundation of the old house that bore the name, but from those foundations to the top of the gridiron everything with the exception of new, and upon the most modern and improved lines. The capacity remains about the same as that of the former structure, although a greater degree of roominess prevails throughout the house. Four magnificent proscenium boxes ornament the stage opening, with private entrances from the orchestra floor.
Wide promenades run the entire depth of the house on either side from main entrance to the stage wall. The front entrance is made up of four large double glass doors opening to a large rotunda, or lobby, in the rear of the seats of the orchestra circle. The body of the house is divided by three aisles, one running through the centre and one on either side. The stage is one of the most complete in the country, being equipped with every known device and appliance. Special attention has been bestowed upon the lighting of this portion of the theatre. The dressing rooms are many and commodious and fitted with every appointment. The general color scheme is ivory and gold, with a gray background. A magnificent ventilator of white and gold coloring adds a striking finish to the dome, while innumerable handsome electrolites serve as additional embellishment. Special consideration has been bestowed upon the feature of safety to the extent that the slightest difficulty three sides of the theatre seem to open the house to the pier on which it is located. This will prove a decided feature during the heated term. The management states that $15,000 has been expended upon the improvements, which include a large and special approach from the pier proper. The owners have retained W. E. Shackelford as general manager of the new house, as well as of the entire pier and all of its various attractions.

T O M M Y

By DON RAMSAY.

Although TOMMY is a brand-new song, it is being whistled all over New York, and the best critics of popular songs in this country have predicted that it will be the SENSATION of the year. The surprising characteristic of the song is that any sort of an act can FEATURE it, and take encore after encore with it. For usefulness it cannot be duplicated. WHY? Because the sweetest ballad-singer in the world can win great big applause with it; BECAUSE, a dainty comedienne who likes a pleading, teazling sort of song can double her popularity when she sings it; BECAUSE its possession of a bewitching "Florodora" rhythm makes it an ideal neat song-and-dance; and BECAUSE of its plaintive and haunting sweetness and organ-like harmony. Quartettes will rave over it. If these four sure-fire methods of using one song do not stamp it as a winner, SHOW US. The lyrics are by TELL TAYLOR, the well-known author of several successful songs.

GEORGE W. SETCHELL

Has for years been "musically" fishing with great care for real songs of the popular and sentimental class which live longer than a 28 day month, and in his judgment the "musical" fish have matured. He has "landed" the choicest of the "school," which comprise a selection of songs far beyond the ordinary efforts of authors and composers, both from story and musical conception. In order to get in closer touch with my past and present professional friends, I have opened a NEW YORK OFFICE, located at 39 West 28th St., in charge of DON RAMSAY and competent assistants, and I herewith extend to you all the privileges they can accord you. When in Boston, you will be given all the attention at my command.

YOU WILL ALSO WANT TO HEAR EVERYONE OF THESE:

UNDER THE BANANA TREE

By LAWRENCE B. O'CONNOR.

Here is another brand new gem away from all the others, with new ideas, a "jingling" sort of melody and good words. A "HIT."

SYLVIE

Another O'CONNOR melody, with story by CLARENCE BILLINGS, the author of "What's the Matter With Sarah?" Perhaps you have heard this one. If not, you should look it over, for SYLVIE is another "salary-raiser," and the best evidence in the world is that it is the feature song with Dockstader's Minstrels and is sung by CARROLL JOHNSON.

For MINSTREL and ILLUSTRATED Song Acts, the following numbers cannot be beaten: "THE FACE IN THE FIRELIGHT," Slides by WHEELER, of New York City.

Send PROGRAM only—NO CARDS. Don't mind the STAMPS—I make them and am overstocked.

GEORGE W. SETCHELL,

39 W. 28th St., NEW YORK.
DON RAMSAY, Manager.

The Song-Birds Are Singing of You

An Entrancing Ballad by DAN SULLIVAN and ARTHUR LAMB.
Lamb's reputation has so well preceded him that it will not be necessary to laud his contribution to this effort. Mr. Sullivan has once more written a beautiful melody.

I Wants to Pick-a-Bone with You

By SMITH and BOWMAN.
The fact that these two boys wrote this song should be sufficient guarantee that it is a coon song with genuine melody as well as funny lyrics. Here is one that you can either "shoot" or sing and more than earn your salary.

PARK MEN, ATTENTION

Why not build an attraction in your park that will draw the people, amuse them, and pay you a handsome profit on your investment? Build a REAL HELTER SKELTER—not of sheet iron or a rattan trough affair, but an ornamental, fascinating amusement device—one of the "Let's do it again" kind. Our Helter Skelter is not to be compared with any other of its kind. It is in a class by itself. A well known Western park man said of it: "I have visited the principal amusement parks of the country and have paid particular attention to Helter Skelters, and had made up my mind that I did not want one in my park, but after seeing yours I want one, and one just like yours." A ride on our Helter Skelter is like flying, there is no exposure, and you arise from it just as you would from a chair. It is as smooth as glass, semicircular in shape, and has the proper pitch and curves for a delightful ride. Over 600,000 people rode our Helter Skelter at the Chutes Park, in Chicago, last season, without a scratch. Build one in your park, operate it free afternoons, for children, and watch your business grow. We can furnish you complete plans and specifications and supply you with an elegant one sheet pictorial poster (copyrighted), with any lettering you desire. Write for sample posters and prices. We can also furnish you with complete plans and specifications for the latest improved Figure 8 Toboggan Slide. These plans cover every detail, including cars, castings, etc., and are so plain that any intelligent mechanic can work to them. You can save from $3,500 to $4,000 in construction, and have the safest, smoothest and most fascinating slide ever constructed. We have the only complete plans in existence. Write for prices and names of parties who have used our plans. This company now owns and controls the patents on the Katzenjammer Castle, and has the sole right to build and license this amusement. The so-called Katzenjammer Castles operated upon the Bowery at Coney Island, the Pike at the World's Fair, in St. Louis; Kansas City and other Southern cities, have but one point of similarity—i. e., the name. They were not built by us, nor under or after our plans, and are no more to be compared with a real Katzenjammer Castle than a wheelbarrow with an automobile. We are closely watching these imitators, and any infringements of our patents will be vigorously prosecuted. Write for particulars and prices. We have eleven years' experience in designing, building and operating amusement devices, having built the first three and only successful Chutes in America. We are prepared to supply any and everything needed in the park line. Watch for our Velvet Coaster at the Chutes next season—the most elaborate pleasure railway ever constructed.
